Comparison of business policies in vocational education and training in EU countries and adaptation of good practices at VET schools and VET providers

2013-1-NL1-LEO04-12683

Tools questionnaire for the LdV Partnership project CO-BUS-VET

Opinion about the cooperation between the organizations involved in the project in order to develop the tools:

- It was an excellent cooperation amongst the partners involved in the project, in order to develop the project tools. Furthermore, the experience of the organizations involved in the project was complementary, therefore the tasks were completed and the tools were developed at the required standards with a very low number of partners approved (only 4 from the total number of partners included in the application form).
- The cooperation was very good. All the partners did their job conscientiously and on time. The project products are very useful.
- Perfect cooperation.
- Each country brings its own methodology and ideas to develop the tools and outcomes. The share of experience is a real good point to achieve this objective. We learn from each other and patience, negotiation and an attentive listening are necessary for the proper functioning of the project. The low number of partners involved finally in the project was difficult at the beginning but we found common ideas to resolve this issue.

Additional comment:

- The cooperation between the Dutch and the Spanish partners will continue in a new Erasmus + . KA2 project that aims to support people at the edge of the society to be easier integrated in the society and to have in this way better chances to find an appropriate job. The cooperation with the other partners is also opened to new project ideas.
- Since many partners were rejected from the project - it couldn't be realized in the initial form. However it was a great opportunity to get to know some examples of good practices and exchange experiences. They became an inspiration for the future.
